

For Immediate Release

Mathon Systems Appoints Financial Markets Veteran and TIBCO Director, Sir Peter Job, to Advisory Board

Los Altos, Calif., – January 22, 2007 – Mathon Systems, a provider of information risk management solutions, today announced Sir Peter Job has joined its advisory board. This is the second appointment to the company’s advisory board since its formation in October 2006.

Sir Peter joins Francis Remale, former Head of the Securities Industry Division at SWIFT, as part of a select group of internationally-renowned personalities within the financial services and high-technology industries to provide technical advice and strategic guidance to Mathon Systems. Sir Peter formerly served as Chief Executive Officer at Reuters Group from 1991 until his retirement in July 2001.

“Sir Peter’s breadth in financial services and wealth management is a tremendous asset as we continue to introduce the company to the global financial services market,” said Angus MacDonald, CEO of Mathon Systems. “We are fortunate to have such high caliber experts on our board and look forward to their guidance and the opportunities they bring to increase our market share.”

Sir Peter is a member of the Supervisory Board of Deutsche Bank, and a member of the boards of directors of Royal Dutch Shell, Instinet, Inc., TIBCO Software Inc., and Schroders PLC. Sir Peter is also former Chairman of the International Advisory Council of The Nasdaq Stock Market.

“From my tenure at Reuters, I have a good grasp of the formidable challenges of managing information risk,” said Sir Peter Job. “In the past few years, technology has been an enabling factor for litigation, auditing and compliance. However, the regulatory the processes on both fronts will only grow more sophisticated. I look forward to being a part of the Mathon Systems’ growth and hope to offer guidance to help make Mathon a leader in providing risk management solutions for financial markets.”

Mathon’s advisory board provides a forum for discussion, feedback and consultation on issues related to product functionality and quality, strategy, vision and execution. Its mission is to encourage closer ties between Mathon Systems, its clients and partners.

About Mathon Systems

Mathon Systems provides solutions for information risk management. The company's flagship product, Mathon Integral, audits and controls 100% of the interactions between employees and their data files in real time to minimize informational risk. The company's customers includes large financial services organizations and federal government agencies. Formed in 2002 by John Mathon, the technical founder of TIBCO Software, Inc. and the inventor of the information bus, Mathon is headed by former senior executives from Citigroup, JP Morgan, TIBCO, and Reuters. For more information, go to www.mathon.com.

For Immediate Release

###

Media contact:

Chris Fucanan
Atomic PR for Mathon Systems
415-439-4219
chris.fucanan@atomicpr.com